Agenda item 92 (c)
Review of the implementation of the recommendations and decisions adopted by the General Assembly at its tenth special session: report of the Conference on Disarmament

Poland, Republic of Korea, Romania, Russian Federation, Senegal and Slovakia: draft resolution

Report of the Conference on Disarmament

The General Assembly,

Having considered the report of the Conference on Disarmament,[1]

Convinced that the Conference on Disarmament, as the sole multilateral disarmament negotiating forum of the international community, has the primary role in substantive negotiations on priority questions of disarmament,

Recognizing the need to conduct multilateral negotiations with the aim of reaching agreement on concrete issues,

Recalling, in this respect, that the Conference has a number of urgent and important issues for negotiation,

Taking note of active discussions held on the programme of work during the 2006 session of the Conference, as duly reflected in the report and the records of the plenary meetings,

Taking note also of increased deliberations of the Conference due to constructive contribution of its Member States, focused structured debates on all agenda items including with the participation of experts from capitals, and cooperation between all six Presidents of the Conference in the 2006 session,

Taking note further of significant contributions made during the 2006 session to promote substantive discussions on issues in the agenda, as well as of discussions held on other issues that could also be relevant to the current international security environment,

Stressing the urgent need for the Conference to commence its substantive work at the beginning of its 2007 session,

Recognizing the address of the Secretary-General of the United Nations, as well as the addresses of Ministers for Foreign Affairs and other high-level officials, as expressions of support for the endeavours of the Conference on Disarmament and its role as the sole multilateral disarmament negotiating forum,

Bearing in mind the importance of efforts towards revitalization of the disarmament machinery, including the Conference on Disarmament,

Recognizing the importance of continuing consultations on the question of the expansion of the Conference membership,

1. Reaffirms the role of the Conference on Disarmament as the sole multilateral disarmament negotiating forum of the international community;

2. Calls upon the Conference to further intensify consultations and explore possibilities with a view to reaching an agreement on a programme of work;

3. Takes note of the strong collective interest of the Conference in commencing substantive work as soon as possible during its 2007 session;

4. Welcomes the decision of the Conference to request its current President and the incoming President to conduct consultations during the intersessional period and, if possible, to make recommendations, taking into account all relevant proposals, including those submitted as documents of the Conference, views presented and discussions held, and to endeavour to keep the membership of the Conference informed, as appropriate, of their consultations, as contained in paragraph 28 of its report;[1]

5. Requests all States members of the Conference to cooperate with the current President and successive Presidents in their efforts to guide the Conference to the early commencement of substantive work in its 2007 session;

6. Requests the Secretary-General to continue to ensure the provision to the Conference of adequate administrative, substantive and conference support services;

7. Requests the Conference to submit a report on its work to the General Assembly at its sixty-second session;

8. Decides to include in the provisional agenda of its sixty-second session the item entitled "Report of the Conference on Disarmament".
